PHI Defined

Your PHI:

- Is health information about you:
 - which someone may use to identify you; and
 - which we keep or transmit in electronic, oral, or written form.
- Includes information such as your:
 - name;
 - contact information;
 - past, present, or future physical or mental health or medical conditions;
 - payment for health care products or services; or

- prescriptions.

Scope

We create a record of the care and health services you receive, to provide your care, and to comply with certain legal requirements. This Notice applies to all the PHI that we generate.

We follow the duties and privacy practices that this Notice describes and any changes once they take effect.

Changes to this Notice

We can change the terms of this Notice, and the changes will apply to all information we have about you. The new notice will be available on request, in our office, and on our website.

Data Breach Notification

We will promptly notify you if a data breach occurs that may have compromised the privacy or security of your PHI. We will notify you no later than 60 days after we discover the breach. Most of the time, we will notify you via email at the address on file, unless we do not have your email address, in which case we will notify you via mail.

Your Rights

When it comes to your health information, you have certain rights. This section explains your rights and some of our responsibilities to help you.

You have the right to:

- Get a copy of your PHI. You can ask to see or obtain an electronic or paper copy of the PHI that we maintain about you (right to request access). We may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee for the costs of copying, mailing, or other supplies associated with your request. You may request that we provide a copy of your PHI to a family member, another person, or a designated entity. We require that you submit these requests in writing with your signature, and clearly identify the designated person and where to send the PHI.
- Ask us to correct your medical record. You may ask us to correct or amend PHI that we maintain about you that you think is incorrect or inaccurate. For these requests, you must submit in writing, specify the inaccurate or incorrect PHI, and provide a reason that supports your request. We may deny your request for an amendment if you ask us to amend PHI that is not part of our record, that we did not create, that is not part of a designated record set, or that is accurate and complete.
- Ask us to limit what we use or share. You have the right to ask us to limit what we use or share about your PHI (right to request restrictions). You can contact us and request us not to use or share certain PHI for treatment, payment, or operations or with certain persons involved in your care. For these requests:
 - we are not required to agree;
 - we may say "no" if it would affect your care; but
 - we will agree not to disclose information to a health plan for purposes of payment or health care operations if the requested restriction concerns a health care item or service for which you or another person, other than the health plan, paid in full out-of-pocket, unless it is otherwise required by law.

Get a list of those with whom we've shared your PHI. You have the right to request an accounting of certain PHI disclosures that we have made. For these requests, we will include all the disclosures except for those about treatment, payment, and health care operations, and certain other disclosures, such as any you asked us to make. We will provide one accounting a year for free, but will charge a reasonable, cost-based fee if you ask for another one within 12 months.

- Choose someone to act for you. If you have given someone medical power of attorney or if someone is your legal guardian, that person can exercise your rights and make choices about your PHI.
- Request confidential communications. You have the right to request that we communicate with you about health matters in a certain way or at a certain location. For example, you can ask that we only contact you at work or at a specific address. For these requests:
 - you must specify how or where you wish to be contacted; and
 - we will accommodate reasonable requests.
- Make a complaint. You have the right to complain if you feel we have violated your rights. We will not retaliate against you for filing a complaint. You may either file a complaint:
 - directly with us by contacting Christine Baumgart at the contact info provided above; or
 - with the Office for Civil Rights at the US Department of Health and Human Services (<https://www.hhs.gov/hipaa/filing-a-complaint/index.html>).

Your Choices

For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share. If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, please contact us and we will make reasonable efforts to follow your instructions.

In these cases, you have both the right and choice to tell us whether to:

- Share information, such as your PHI, general condition, or location, with your family, close friends, or others involved in your care.
- Share information in a disaster relief situation.

If you are not able to tell us your preference, for example if you are unconscious, we may share your information if we believe it is in your best interest, according to our best judgment. We may also share your information when needed to lessen a serious and imminent threat to health or safety.

In these cases, we will not share your information unless you give us your written permission:

- Most sharing of a mental health care professional's notes (psychotherapy notes).
- Marketing purposes.
- Selling or otherwise receiving compensation for disclosing your PHI.
- Other uses and disclosures not described in this Notice.

You may revoke your authorization at any time, but it will not affect information that we already used and disclosed.

In the case of fundraising:

- We may contact you for fundraising efforts, but you can tell us not to contact you again.

Uses and Disclosures of Your PHI

The law permits or requires us to use or disclose your PHI for various reasons, which we explain in this Notice. We have included some examples, but we have not listed every permissible use or disclosure. When using or disclosing PHI or requesting your PHI from another source, we will make reasonable efforts to limit our use, disclosure, or request about your PHI to the minimum we need to accomplish our intended purpose.

Uses and Disclosures for Treatment, Payment, or Health Care Operations

- Treatment. We may use or disclose your PHI and share it with other professionals who are treating you, including doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students, or hospital personnel involved in your care. For example, we might disclose information about your overall health condition to physicians who are treating you for a specific injury or condition.
- Billing and payment. We may use and disclose your PHI to bill and get payment from health plans or others. For example, we share your PHI with your health insurance plan so it will pay for the services you receive. We may also share your PHI with The Lactation Network for purposes of processing payment for treatment.
- Running our organization. We may use and disclose your PHI to run our practice, improve your care, and contact you when necessary. For example, we may use your PHI to manage the services and treatment you receive or to monitor the quality of our health care services.

Other Uses and Disclosures

We may share your information in other ways, usually for public health or research purposes or to contribute to the public good. For more information on permitted uses and disclosures, see www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/understanding/consumers/index.html. For example, these other uses and disclosures may involve:

- Our business associates. We may use and disclose your PHI to outside persons or entities that perform services on our behalf, such as auditing, legal, or transcription (Business Associates). The law requires our business associates and their subcontractors to protect your PHI in the same way we do. We also contractually require these parties to use and disclose your PHI only as permitted and to appropriately safeguard your PHI.
- Complying with the law. For example, we will share your PHI if the Department of Health and Human Services requires it when investigating our compliance with privacy laws.
- Helping with public health and safety issues. For example, we may share your PHI to:
 - report injuries, births, and deaths;
 - prevent disease;
 - report adverse reactions to medications or medical device product defects;
 - report suspected child neglect or abuse, or domestic violence; or

- avert a serious threat to public health or safety.
- Responding to legal actions. For example, we may share your PHI to respond to:
 - a court or administrative order or subpoena;
 - discovery request; or
 - another lawful process.
- Research. For example, we may share your PHI for some types of health research that do not require your authorization, such as if an institutional review board (IRB) has waived the written authorization requirement.
- Working with medical examiners or funeral directors. For example, we may share PHI with coroners, medical examiners, or funeral directors when an individual dies.
- Responding to organ and tissue donation requests. For example, we may share your PHI to arrange an authorized organ or tissue donation from you or a transplant for you.
- Addressing workers' compensation, law enforcement, or other government requests. For example, we may use and disclose your PHI for:
 - workers' compensation claims;
 - health oversight activities by federal or state agencies;
 - law enforcement purposes or with a law enforcement official; or
 - specialized government functions, such as military and veterans' activities, national security and intelligence, presidential protective services, or medical suitability.
